

Manuel is studying for his test and decides to listen to 'The Joshua Tree' album by U2.

He wants to listen to sports reports and a news digest every so often, so he adds those functionalities to his created station.

Manuel's best friend Luis notices his peer's created radio station on the app, so he decides to start broadcasting it as well.

After asking Manuel, Luis gets permission to add content to the station. After finishing 'The Joshua Tree', the station will play a basketball podcast, as suggested by Luis.
